Discernment

I am growing in my understanding of God's will for humanity and for my life in particular.

First Steps

Choose one decision that you are currently struggling with and daily invite God to be a part of the decision making process. Record your experience in a journal and reflect on how God led or tried to lead you in your choice.

Next Steps

Take the time to ask close friends or spiritual mentors where they see God at work in your life. Write down their insights. Then spend time deciphering what God is trying to say to you through these insights.

Continuing

Read Leslie Weatherhead's "The Will of God," and find a group or person with whom you can share insights. Consider taking the course Discovering the Will of God when it is offered.
